

Guest Post Terms and Conditions

This Guest Post Agreement (the “Agreement”) is made and entered between the undersigned independent author hereinafter referred to as “Guest Author”, and WHATALIFE.PH (www.whatalife.ph), hereinafter referred to as “Site Owner.”

Guest Author is an independent agent who is in business for him/herself. This Agreement shall not create the relationship of employer and employee, a partnership, or a joint venture. Guest Author shall have no authority to bind, obligate, or commit Site Owner by any promise or representation. No monetary relationship is being created nor construed through this Agreement.

By providing a guest post to the Site Owner, Guest Author agrees they are not becoming part of the site and cannot represent themselves as a member/owner of the site.

Guest Author grants to Site Owner the perpetual, non-exclusive, worldwide, and royalty-free, transferable right to use Guest Author’s name, biography, and likeness in connection with the publication of the Work under this Agreement.

Therefore, Site Owner and Guest Author jointly agree to the following criteria:

1. Guest Posts must be original work. Site Owner reserves the right to reject any Original Blog Entry for any reason upon receipt of said content, and if necessary, make edits to the piece where necessary to ensure the blog stays congruent with the site. Prior to the publication of the guest blog post Site Owner will make sure the Guest Author agrees with these changes.
2. Plagiarism or copyright infringement is not permitted, for copies or images. The Guest Post writer must be the copyright holder of the image/video OR the image/video must be licensed under an appropriate creative commons license or in the public domain. Proof must be submitted along with any image/video showing that it does not infringe on copyright laws. Site

Owner reserves the right to change/edit the image/video if necessary. If people are included in the image/video, then the Guest Post writer must provide a written release allowing the use of likeness. Video/image submissions must be relevant to the post. No video or image can exceed 8MB maximum.

3. When quoting others, Guest Author must properly and accurately cite sources.
4. Posts will acknowledge Guest Author authorship but will become the property of the Site Owner.
5. Guest Authors may promote articles on their own website, Facebook, Twitter, or other social media forums. Promotion should involve a proper tease and link to the article.
6. Submissions should be kept between 300 - 2,000 words. Longer posts are allowed if it is necessary and relevant, but the final length of the article is decided by the Site Owner.
7. Affiliate links shall not be included in guest post submissions. All links are subject to the approval of the Site Owner.
8. Site Owner reserves the right to add its own links, affiliate or otherwise, where appropriate.
9. Guest Post writers will receive writing credit as the author of their post at the end of the article and will be afforded a short bio statement and one link to their website within the author acknowledgment at the bottom of the article.
10. The Site Owner reserves the right to archive at least a year old articles written by the Guest Author unless the Guest Author provides an updated version.
11. Guest Authors acknowledge they shall not be entitled to any compensation for writing the post or for any other compensation related to the post.

12. Once the Site Owner officially posts a Guest Post, the Guest Author is welcome to request to make any grammatical corrections or working changes if deemed necessary. Any edits that change the content or meaning of an article will need an "UPDATED" disclaimer added with a date. Guest Authors may also request to change/update their author biography or links. (Note: For editing requests, email the Site Owner.)

13. The Site Owner reserves the right to refuse publication, remove blog content, and change these guidelines as we see fit. If removed, Guest Author is free to use the content for their own purposes.
